| Тад                             | C-Flag Tag  |
|---------------------------------|---|
| Target                          | KCNE4   |
| Synonyms                        | MIRP3   |
| Description                     | Human KCNE4 full length protein-syntheticnanodisc   |
| Delivery                        | 6~8weeks  |
| Uniprot ID                      | Q8WWG9  |
| Expression Host          | HEK293  |
| Protein Families         | Ion Channels: Other   |
| Protein Pathways                | N/A   |
| Molecular Weight                | The human full length KCNE4 protein has a MW of 23.8kDa   |
| Formulation &Reconstitution | Lyophilized from nanodisc solubilization buffer (20mM Tris-HCl, 150 mM NaCl, pH 8.0). Normally 5%– 8% trehalose is added as protectants beforelyophilization. Please see Certificate of Analysisfor specific instructions of reconstitution.Store at -20°C to -80°C for 12 months in  |
| Storage & Shipping              | lyophilized form. After reconstitution, if notintended for use within a month, aliquot and storeat -80°C (Avoid repeated freezing and thawing).Lyophilized proteins are shipped at ambienttemperature.  |
| Background                      | Voltage-gated potassium (Kv) channels representthe most complex class of voltage-gated ionchannels from both functional and structuralstandpoints. Their diverse functions includeregulating neurotransmitter release, heart rate,insulin secretion, neuronal excitability, epithelialelectrolyte transport, smooth muscle contraction,and cell volume. This gene encodes a member ofthe potassium channel, voltage-gated, isk-relatedsubfamily. This member is a type I membraneprotein, and a beta subunit that assembles with apotassium channel alpha-subunit to modulate thegating kinetics and enhance stability of themultimeric complex. This gene is prominentlyexpressed in the embryo and in adult uterus.[provided by RefSeq, Jul 2008] |
| Usage                           | Research use only   |
| Conjugate                       | Unconjugated  |
